TO POLITICAL CLUBS.—Political clubs will find the arrangements of the Star office for printing their circulars, addresses, arguments, pamphlets, &c., as complete as those of any other printing office in the United States. They may rely upon having such work done at the Star office in a satisfactory manner as to style and price, and in the shortest possible time. Be sure to give us a call before making arrangements elsewhere.

NOTICE.—Those charged with the management of clubs, societies, and all other associations are notified that in order to insure the insertion of advertisements or notices of any description in the Star, payment must be made for them when offered, or an arrangement for the payment for the same provided for. There are now on file in our counting room many advertisements, not inserted, because our terms have not been complied with. This rule must be imperative.

SPIRIT OF THE MORNING PRESS.—The Union says of Mr. Lindley's vindication of the soundness of the Democracy of the Missouri Bentonians, essayed yesterday in the House hall:

"From his remarks we infer that he owed his election in part to the votes of the Bentonites, and that he looks to them for a re-election; and hence it was natural that he should regard them as 'sound democrats,' to avoid the odium of having been elected by Black Republicans. On the other hand, we prefer to take the unanimous judgment of the Democratic Convention at Cincinnati as the soundness of the Bentonites rather than the opinion of Mr. Lindley, who admits that it is strange for him to vindicate 'the nationality of any democracy.' When the Benton party adopt and endorse the Democratic platform we shall be ready to recognize them as sound Democrats; and whenever they do that, we suspect they will find a better Democrat than Mr. Lindley, or any Bentonian, to cast their votes upon."

It sounded singular, indeed, to us, to hear a gentleman well known to be a member of the Know Nothing order pleading lustily for the purity of Bentonian Democracy. But these are days of strange things in politics. The Union further shows that the Evening Post's ten Western German papers, whose editors recently met in Cincinnati and determined to support the Republican party ticket, are all two-penny concerns, so far as their circulation and influence are concerned—the circulation and influence of each of half a dozen Buchanan German papers being greater than the influence and circulation of the whole combined.

The Intelligencer speaks highly of the nomination, by the Republicans, of ex-Senator Wm. L. Dayton, of New Jersey, for the Vice Presidency.

WASHINGTON NEWS AND GOSSIP.

Long Faces.—The Whigs of Congress, who are now identified with the Republican party, are returning to Washington from Philadelphia with very long faces, indeed. Most of them were advocates for the nomination of Judge McLean, and are sorely disappointed by his defeat. We must do them the credit to say that they supported him mainly on account of his pre-eminent fitness for the presidency when compared with his rivals for the Republican party nominations. They are generally men of experience in public affairs, and know the importance of competency for the discharge of the responsibilities of the position, in one chosen to preside over the destinies of the United States.

They now comprehend that the affairs of their new party are altogether in the hands of two descriptions of politicians, viz: disappointed Democrats, who war on their old party associates because, in the revolution in the affairs of the Democratic party occurring in the Baltimore Convention of 1844, they went to the wall; and, next, the speculators in legislation who hang around the lobbies in this city and the different State capitals. These last mentioned gentlemen have succeeded so badly under the present National Administration in the consummation of their plans, as that their souls are disgusted with the Democratic party, and they are anxious to turn it out of power. They knew that the chances are ten to one against Fillmore's obtaining a single State; and, therefore, "went in" to secure the nomination of a cat's-paw for themselves, by the Republican party nomination. They and such Democrats as F. P. Blair, Preston King, David Wilmot, et al, were far too sharp and effective at such a game for all the old line Whig statesmen who were recently congregated at Philadelphia; being able to buy and sell the latter over and over again without their knowledge a dozen times during the sitting of the Convention, if necessary to the consummation of their ends. The real public men identified with the Republican party organization now begin to comprehend how they were used; and that Fremont was nominated simply to make a sort of bogus Democratic administration, and to pull treasury chestnuts out of the fire for the benefit of enterprising gentlemen at this point. They are in high dudgeon, as might be expected. What is to grow out of the existing state of their minds is past our comprehension, though we cannot conceive what they can possibly do by way of helping themselves out of their dilemma. Their fate seems to us to be the task of playing second fiddle for the balance of their public lives, to those whom the Democracy have long since slushed off as selfish schemers bent on profiting themselves at the expense of every principle for which they were then nominally contending.

The Odd Combination.—It looks extremely odd to see James Gordon Bennett, and his Herald, and Horace Greeley, and his Tribune, working together for dear life, for Fremont. By way of illustrating the oddity of this last political combination, we suggest to the publishers of Young America, or Yankee Notions, or some other such funny periodical, a wood-cut representing Col. Fremont mounted on the never-to-be-forgotten woolly horse, with Bennett pulling him towards the White House, by the ears, and Greeley belaboring him from behind, by way of urging him in the same direction!

The truth is, Bennett is perfectly well aware that Mr. Buchanan knows too much to send him commissioned to represent this Government at Paris, and that Col. Fremont knows just about enough to do that thing Greeley supports F., too, only because he believes that his administration can be moulded to suit the fancy of his leading supporters—his (G.'s) fancy being to make it the means of carrying out his new fangled notions in the way of so-called reforms. He was against all "platforms" in Philadelphia, only because he wants his own peculiar platform to be the basis of the policy of the new administration. What that is, his many readers know.

A story is in circulation here, saying that Bennett and Greeley had a parlor together in Philadelphia, and were otherwise as thick as three in a bed. This must be nonsense—nothing more. Their identification in politics can hardly have so soon led to any such personal association between them. But give us the picture, Mr. Yankee Notions.

A Successful Invention.—Charles Mahon, Esq., of this city, has invented, (and patented, we believe), a contrivance for removing obstructions from before railroad cars in cities. It is termed a "Safety Attachment to City Cars," and consists of a plow-like attachment on each brake which, by the aid of a point traveling in the groove of the rail and provided with two small wheels, one placed horizontally and one vertically to diminish the friction, throws out, with a kind of plow-like action, every obstruction of whatever nature. Recently it has been tried in the crowded thoroughfares of New York city, removing logs, stones, effigies of human beings weighing one hundred and fifty pounds and less, placed in various positions on the rails to test the capacity of the machine to answer the purposes intended. According to the Tribune and Mirror, these experiments proved perfectly satisfactory. We congratulate Mr. Mahon, the directors of city-line railway companies, and the public, compelled, at times, to cross their tracks, upon this successful invention. Mothers, whose children play in the streets of cities, may now rest easier when their darlings "are out."

The Mystery of Politics.—The recent publication of the declarations in favor of Know Nothingism made by Col. Fremont, on the authority of members of the Massachusetts delegation in George Law's late Convention, and the subsequent publication of a denial that he had given any pledge whatever to them, signed by three members of the delegation aforesaid, seem to puzzle straight-forward Know Nothings and Republicans amazingly. They appear unable to comprehend the discrepancy in these contradictory stories. We can enlighten them in very few words. There is no doubt that Col. Fremont's conversation with the Massachusetts delegation was correctly represented in the first instance. But, on being made public, it was judged that its tendency would be to prevent him from receiving the support of a single foreign born voter, and also to alienate from him thousands of the Giddings Free-soilers, who have constantly opposed Know Nothingism up to this time. Hence, the three of the Massachusetts delegation who signed the subsequent card, were prevailed on to eat their words, in the hope of thus aiding Col. Fremont to escape the legitimate consequences of his indiscretion, and that of the d-d good natured friends, who undertook to obtain his endorsement of Know Nothingism as one of the sovereign remedies for the existing ills of the State.

Responsibility of Army Officers Directing Expenditures to be made.—A vessel was chartered for account of the United States for the transportation of troops from an Atlantic port to California. All the proper mess furniture, cooking apparatus, &c., were, by the terms of the charter party, to be provided by the owners. The apparatus proved unsuitable and inadequate, and, by direction of the officer commanding the troops, purchases and repairs on that account were made at the expense of the United States. It was held that, as the commanding officer who directed the expenditure did not note it on the certificate he gave of the service performed under the charter party, so that the quartermaster might have deducted it from the amount due the owners, the United States ought not to suffer for his neglect; and the sum so paid was allowed to the disbursing officer, but charged to the officer who ordered the purchases.

Sick at the Stomach.—The new so plain fact that the old line Whigs design supporting Buchanan and Breckinridge with much unanimity, having been announced in the Washington correspondence of all the northern journals employing writers here, has evidently made the Republican party press sick at the stomach. Neither the Herald, Tribune nor Times, of New York, can see the least propriety in their proposed course. They regard that determination as being a strange one, and positively disgraceful to the Whigs, concerning whose future they suddenly manifest great solicitude, indeed.

The Current Operations of the Treasury Department.—On yesterday, the 19th of June, there were of Treasury warrants entered on the books of the Department—

For the redemption of stock.... 17,467 60
For the Treasury Department.... 15 00

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

In the Senate, yesterday, after we went to press, the resolution reported by Mr. Pearce from the Library (joint) Committee, for the purchase of books for the members of both Houses, was passed—yeas 29, nays 12.

Mr. Douglas offered a resolution to close the current session of Congress on the first Tuesday in July next at 12 m.

Mr. Seward suggested the 15th day of August on account of the large amount of business still undispensed of. Without disposing of this resolution, which lies over, they proceeded to other business, of no especial public importance, on which they were engaged until they adjourned over until Monday next.

In the House, at the conclusion of the speech of Mr. Lindley, on Missouri politics, they adjourned.

PROCEEDINGS OF TO-DAY.

The Senate was not in session to-day. In the House, Mr. Washburne, of Me., asked leave to make a personal explanation; but objection being made for the time being, the question was put on Mr. Millen's pending motion to lay on the table the long-pending motion of Mr. Jones, of Tenn., to amend the journal, wherein that represents that Mr. Edwards' bill for the removal of the seat of government had been properly introduced; laid on the table yeas 89, nays 38.

Mr. Washburne of Me., renewed his request to be permitted to make a personal explanation; but Mr. Cobb of Ala., objected; so leave was not granted.

It was moved by Mr. Carlile to go into a Committee of the Whole on the state of the Union; not agreed to.

The Race.—The different nags offered as candidates for the Presidential race are being trotted out by their backers, and, as the list is getting somewhat extensive and might puzzle the memory, we put it down in print, and our readers can select from it a ticket at their leisure:
First in the field were the nominees of the American National Convention at Philadelphia: Millard Fillmore, of New York, for President, and Andrew Jackson Donelson, of Tennessee, for Vice President.
The Cincinnati Convention put upon the track James Buchanan, of Pennsylvania, for President, and John C. Breckinridge, of Kentucky, for Vice President.

The seceders from the American National Convention start Nathaniel P. Banks, of Massachusetts, for President, and ex-Governor Johnston, of Pennsylvania, for Vice President.

The seceders from the seceders from the American National Convention put up Commodore Stockton, of New Jersey, for President, and Kenneth Rayner, of North Carolina, for Vice President.

The Republican Convention in Philadelphia, have just started John C. Fremont, of California for President, and Wm. L. Dayton, of New Jersey, for Vice President.

In addition to these, the Spiritualists have nominated Judge Edmonds for the Presidency. The Abolitionists, "pure and undefiled," have nominated Gerrit Smith for the same office.

The officers of the National camp, order "United Sons of America," have called a convention of the Order, to assemble in Baltimore on Friday, July 4th, and which will, doubtless, result in new nominations.

Then the glass-blowers of the country have called a convention, and quite likely they may put a candidate on the track; and with their formidable "blowing" availments brought in requisition, their candidate might prove a formidable competitor.

The course is still open. Who offers next?

PERSONAL.

.... W. J. Weld, the leading shipowner of New England, is at Willards'.

.... Hon. James Gadsden, United States Minister to Mexico, is in the city, and is stopping at Willards'.

.... Wm. H. McFarland, of Va., and T. L. Alexander, Esq., of Kansas Territory, are stopping at Willards'.

.... J. A. Libby and twelve others, of the committee of New York merchants, have arrived in Washington, and are stopping at Willards'.

.... John Van Buren, it is said, is about to marry a young lady recently returned from Europe—the only child of a wealthy Senator of South Carolina, lately deceased. John will thus become a large slaveholder.

.... The New York Express says of Fremont: The Colonel claims to have been the first man to have discovered Salt Lake. We do not like to discourage him, but he may as well make up his mind now to another discovery—the discovery of Salt River.

.... Capt. Christian Wulff, of the Danish navy, died at Beaufort, N. C., on the 7th inst., after a very brief illness, at the age of forty-six years. He was contemplating a tour through the United States, in company with his sister, when stricken down by the hand of death. Capt. Wulff occupied a distinguished position in the navy of Denmark.

.... Col. Joe Shillington returned to this city last evening, with his fair bride, after taking a tour Niagara Falls-ward. His friends availed themselves of the occasion to treat him to a serenade, which was performed in excellent style by Weber's superb brass band. The Colonel responded handsomely, and the affair went off "merry as a marriage bell."

We welcome him cordially to the happy fraternity of Benedicts.

.... Portland (Me.) papers announce the death of Rev. Asa Cummings, for many years editor of the "Christian Mirror." The particulars of his death have not yet been obtained. He was on his return from Panama, whither he had been to visit a daughter, and who, it is believed, was accompanying him home. All that is yet known is that he died on board the steamer George Law, and that his body was committed to the deep, it being impossible to bring it home. Mr. Cummings occupied the Mirror with marked ability, but his health failed to relinquish it in consequence of the bitter opposition raised against him by the abolitionists in consequence of his conservatism upon the slavery question.

MATRIMONIAL EXCHANGE.—Thirty odd couples just noosed were at Niagara within a few days of the late Convention. And I will forever all persons from here to New York in winter; Niagara in early summer; Saratoga and Newport anon.

The Richmond Whig (in allusion to the amusing account first published in the Star of a marble-playing jury) says that to a Hericry boy belongs the honor of first playing "marbles" as a remedy for a "hung jury."

THE TREATY AND BREATH.—If those who are blessed with well formed teeth knew how soon decay steals into the mouth, making unsightly what otherwise are delightful to admire, and designating unhealthiness by impurity of breath, they would spare no expense to chase away these fatal blemishes. The Balm of a thousand Flowers will embellish and preserve the dental structure, and impart a grateful fragrance to the breath. For sale at Shillington's Book and Stationery establishment, Odeon building, Pennsylvania avenue, corner of Four-and-a-half street.

COUNSEL.—But few of the reading public are aware how continually an editor is called upon to advise his patrons on every subject, from politics to the breed of cattle. Through the whole range of our duties none have perplexed us more than to tell our readers what to take for a cure when they are sick. Hitherto this has been a severe trial to all our skill, but it will not be hereafter. We have been taking, and have seen the evidence from others that have taken Dr. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral and Cathartic Pills. They need but a slight trial to convince the most sceptical how far they are superior to the other medicines we have had in use. They have one single property of great importance to the sick, and that is they cure.—Boston Herald.

BOUQUETS OF FLOWERS.—Some flowers may be kept in great beauty for a much longer period than others, and many for a longer time than is generally done, or even supposed possible. For this purpose, the flowers should be gathered early in the morning, but not till the dew is nearly dried off them. They should be placed in a glass basket, or on a tray, so as not to press upon or crowd each other, and they should be neatly cut, and not mangled or bruised. When thus gathered, they should be covered with a sheet of paper, and immediately conveyed to the apartment where they are to be used, if that apartment be near at hand; but if they are to be sent any distance, they should be placed in tin cans. In the latter case, the flowers should be placed in their finest flowers not only to England, but to more distant parts of continental Europe.

MADAM MOUNT'S CONSUMPTION DESTROYER.
THIS INVALUABLE CURE, WHICH HAS been used for years, and is now being brought with withheld on account of its utility, has length, through much exertion, been obtained. Knowing the value it will be to the world, from personal experience, I feel bound to give it further delay, praying God's blessing on it; and only wish it were in my power to furnish it gratuitously. This scarcity of the articles forbids. This price shall be moderate as possible. My own physical strength having been exhausted by this dreadful malady, was entirely restored by the use of this Syrup; therefore I confidently recommend it to the public as the most effectual specific for the cure of Consumption of the Lungs, Colds, Phthisis, or Asthma.

Any communication or order will be promptly attended to through the post office, Washington city. Can be had at STOUT'S, corner of Pennsylvania avenue and Seventh street.

This is to certify the above statement is correct. Having been acquainted with the individual who has been laboring under severe pulmonary affection of the lungs so great, that change wrought by the use of the syrup, I scarcely could believe it was the same person. Given under my hand the 31st of May, 1856.
